Social and Personal

MANY prominent society people are taking an active part in the preparations for the Valentine ball to be given at the Jefferson Hotel this afternoon from 1 until 7 o'clock under the auspices of the Mary Thomas Auxiliary for the Home for Incurables, and it promises to be a most charming affair for the young folks and older people as well. Among the many delightful attractions to be given at the party are the minuet, danced by Miss Ella Blinford's dancing class, and led by Miss Jean Heck and Marshall Muncey, Neapolitan dancing by Misses Anne Brockenhough and Anne Benson; an orchestra of children from the Huguemont School of Music will play during the afternoon, and St. Valentine himself will grace the occasion and distribute novelties appropriate for the day, and an attractive ice cream booth has been arranged.

To Receive This Afternoon.

Mrs. Ben Morrison Rosebro and Miss Katharine Curtis Watkins are entertaining at an afternoon reception this afternoon from 1 to 6 o'clock, on West Grace Street.

Afternoon Tea at Club.

The usual attractive afternoon gathering for a cup of tea at the Country Club will take place this afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock. Mrs. Horace S. Hawes will receive with Misses Posie Meredith, Ella Cooke, Bessie Tompkins and Mrs. John G. Hayes.

Carter-Benson.

The announcement was made Thursday of the marriage of Aubrey Bedell Carter, formerly of Mattoax, Va., and Miss Lottie May Benson, formerly of Bellefonte, N. C. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James M. Little, of Washington, D. C., on December 22. The groom is with the Southern Railway Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter are at home to their friends at 1002 East Clay Street, Richmond.

Mr. Atwood Mard Gras.

Miss Elizabeth Bentley and Miss Frances Wheat will attend the Mardi Gras festivities this year in New Orleans, and will be the guests of the former's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore G. Wilson.

Concerning Miss Draper.

Miss Madeline Draper, of Wilmington, Del., has been the recent guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Mason Knox, at their home in Baltimore, and has been the honoree at a number of very handsome entertainments. Miss Draper was a guest in Richmond at the time of the Draper-Shields wedding last spring and was one of the bridesmaids on that occasion.

Bridge Party in Petersburg.

Mrs. Pryor Jones was a very delightful hostess Thursday morning in her home in Petersburg for the Thursday bridge. Her guests were Messdames E. H. Patterson, William Bragg, Preston Roper, Waverly Wilkins, James McCleary, Robert A. Martin, Jr., John Moyer, E. A. Leavenworth McGill, J. J. Chisholm, Misses Margaret Ramsey and Warfield Crenshaw, of Richmond. Prizes were won by Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Patterson.

In Honor of Visitors.

Misses Mary and Ann Traylor entertained at an informal tea in honor of Miss Mary Traylor and Miss Elizabeth Wilbur, who are their guests, and Misses Keim and Brown, who are visiting Mrs. William M. Tallafiero, of Virginia Interest.

A New Jersey paper says:

In the First Presbyterian Church in Trenton, N. J., at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Miss Mathilde Hamill, daughter of Mrs. Hugh Henderson Hamill, of West State Street, became the bride of Bruce Bedford, of Trenton, formerly of Wilkesbarre, Pa., the ceremony being witnessed by one of the largest assemblages seen there for several years. Mrs. Charles Livingston Hyde, of Plainfield, was matron of honor, while the bridesmaids were Miss Frances M. Dickinson and Miss Katherine Janevick of Wilkesbarre. Margaret Simons and Miss Mary Hamill, of Princeton, were the flower girls. Paul Bedford, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., was best man, and the ushers were Herbert Cuylingham, of Wilkesbarre; Charles E. Rice, Jr., of New York, and Hugh Henderson Hamill, of Trenton.

The wedding is of much interest in Richmond. Miss Hamill visited here last June at the time of the marriage of her brother, Barker G. Hamill, to Miss Page Aylett Royall.

Visiting Here.

Miss Josephine Ellett, of New York, is spending some time in Richmond.

Miss Pennington Ellett is the guest of Colonel and Mrs. Thomas Pinckney, in Charleston, S. C.

Of Interest Here.

Says a Norfolk paper:

In honor of the season's most attractive event, the Norfolk, N. J., B. F. Mitchell entertained at a most delightful tea on Thursday afternoon at her home in Boiesvaline Avenue. The entire lower floor was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The library was attractively decorated in palms, ferns and shrubs. The lights in that room were shaded in red. In the reception hall the decorations were Southern smilax and beautiful flowering lilies. In the dining room the table was elaborately decorated in red and green, the centerpiece was a large basket of red Richmond roses tied with green tulle. The lights and candles were shaded in green. The guests were received by Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. John F. Reed, Miss Reed and Miss Virginia Etheridge. Mrs. Harold Webster and Mrs. John Cantwell presided at the punch bowl and the ice was served by Mrs. John Willis and Mrs. Charles J. Hargreaves.

Those who assisted in serving refreshments were: Mrs. H. C. Smith, Mrs. Walter C. Archer, Miss Ina Shingleton, of Washington; Miss Eliza Montgomery, of Richmond; Miss Helen Pinnell, of Cambridge; Miss Fanni Pannell, Miss Bessie Murray, Miss Mary Waller, Miss Rose Willis, Miss Mildred Hemmingsway, Miss Claire Wigg, Miss Marie Marbury, Miss Eva Archer, Miss Claudia Mayer and Miss Lucille Linthicum.

C., the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Latchford, immediately for Raleigh, where he is engaged in business.

At the Washington.

Washington, D. C., February 10.—The Canadian reciprocity agreement made some progress in Congress today through discussion of the House Ways and Means Committee and a conference of Democratic Senators, but action in both houses was deferred, the committee adjourning until tomorrow morning and the Democratic Senators adjourning until Tuesday.

At the Ways and Means Committee session, Chairman Payne was absent, but sent word that he likely would be present when the vote is taken. He is ill at his home with the grip, and hoped to improve sufficiently to attend a session to-morrow, though some of his colleagues believe he still will be too ill to come to Congress.

Most of the committee's time was devoted to a discussion by Representative Mr. Mann, of Illinois, of the phraseology of the McGill bill, which embodies the provisions of the agreement.

NEWLY-ELECTED BISHOP STRICKEN

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Alexandria, Va., February 10.—Rev. Berryman Green, D. D., professor of English Bible at the Episcopal Theological Seminary, who on February 1 last was elected Bishop-Conductor of the Episcopal Diocese of Virginia, by the diocesan council in session in Richmond, was stricken with paralysis at his home at the seminary late yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Green's entire left side is affected. He is being given close attention, and owing to his condition no one is permitted to enter his room except the immediate members of his family, for fear it might retard his recovery. Students at the seminary are not even permitted to see him.

News of Dr. Green's attack did not reach Alexandria until this afternoon, as the officials of the seminary did not at the time deem it expedient to give out anything about his attack.

The entire left side is affected. Dr. Hugh McGuire, of this city, who is attending Dr. Green, stated this afternoon that while his condition is serious, it is not critical, and he has hopes of his recovery.

News of Dr. Green's attack was received by his many friends in Alexandria with a deep feeling of regret. Prior to being stricken he appeared to be in the best of health, and did not even complain of feeling ill.

Dr. Green is one of the best-known clergymen in Virginia. He is forty-seven years old. He was for many years pastor of Christ Episcopal Church here. In 1902 he was elected professor of English Bible at the seminary, and still holds that position. No date has yet been fixed for his consecration.
